

OCT 02

-

NOV 13

4 PM - 5 PM

APPLE STEM NETWORK PRESENTS

SCIENCE IN OUR VALLEY

SUPPORTED BY OUR VALLEY OUR FUTURE

FREE EVENT EVERY WEDNESDAY

FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC - NO REGISTRATION REQUIRED
INTENDED FOR 'SCIENCE-BASED' AUDIENCE - TEACHER CLOCK HOURS AVAILABLE

OCTOBER 02

Evaluating Clark's Nutcracker Relative Diet Variation

*Presented by Jasmine Ruiz, Science Faculty,
Wenatchee Valley College*

OCTOBER 09

Classical Biological Control – An Overview

*Presented by Robert Czokajlo, MS Student,
Washington State University*

OCTOBER 16

Agronomic Strategies to Address Biennial Bearing In Apple Trees

Presented by Thiago Campbell, Ph.D Candidate, Washington State University

OCTOBER 23

Wild, West, Wireless: Changing Rural Teenage Girls' Eating Behaviors Through Mobile Phones

Presented by Dr. Grace Elisabeth Shearrer, University of Wyoming

OCTOBER 30

Glacial Landforms of the Waterville Plateau: New Discoveries

*Presented by Dr. Ralph Dawes, Geology Faculty,
Wenatchee Valley College*

NOVEMBER 06

Natural Enemies of X-Disease Vectors

*Presented by César Alejandro Reyes Corral,
Entomology PhD Candidate,
Washington State University*

NOVEMBER 13

Developing a Sustainability Guided Pathway

*Presented by Dr. Joan Qazi, Geography Faculty,
Wenatchee Valley College*

SERIES CAN BE ATTENDED VIRTUALLY OR IN-PERSON
IN-PERSON LOCATION: WSU TREE FRUIT RESEARCH & EXTENSION CENTER
1100 N WESTERN AVE, WENATCHEE, WA 98801

MORE INFO: WWW.APPLSTEMNETWORK.ORG/SCIENCE-IN-OUR-VALLEY